Hello Future City Educators:

Welcome to all new Future City schools/educators and welcome back to veteran participants!

You will receive these periodic email updates with information that I hope will be helpful.

Today Becky (ETCS Outreach administrative assistant) mailed a hard copy of the handbook to each school with a flyer for the upcoming annual Future City Educator Workshop. The workshop is scheduled for the last week of September: Wednesday, September 28th.

We will hold the workshop in the same location as last year in Fort Wayne: IPFW campus in the Engineering, Technology, and Computer Science Building, Rm. 235.

See link to campus map on the IPFW home page.

The workshop is optional but very helpful. It provides a way for participating educators to meet one another and “veterans” who often share their best practices and helpful suggestions. We will also review the competition components, deadlines, and reminders about how to best plan and prepare your team(s) to compete.

The workshop is from 4:30-7:45. If you need to arrive a little late or leave early due to your location, that is fine.

Please invite your mentor(s) if you like as they may also find the workshop to be helpful. However, this is not a workshop for students.

You may register for the workshop at the Indiana Future City website which is: www.etcs.ipfw.edu/fcc

Please email questions about the program to me at this email address and not to the gmail account that you may have initially used to inquire about the program.

Hope to see you in a few weeks!

Thanks everyone!
